THEIR LAST PARADE

Grand Army Veterans Will Probably March No More.

THE VETERANS GETTING OLD.

They Can Not Stand the Strain of Long Journeys, Preparation and March—The Annual Parade to Be Stricken From the Program—A Magnificent Display in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 12.—The representatives of the surviving veterans of the Union army, from nearly every state and territory, marched yesterday through the twin cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny and received the plaudits and homage of more than a third of a million of spectators. It was the 25th national parade of the boys in blue, and it may be the last one.

For several years past there has been a gradually growing sentiment among the veterans in favor of discontinuing this feature of the national encampment, on the ground that the rank and file is growing too old and enfeebled to stand the strain of long journeys, preparation and march, as well as the risk of illness, resulting from exposure to the elements. The feeling is growing that the time is approaching when the annual parade should be stricken from the program of the encampment exercises and will probably take form in the presentation of a specific resolution during the present session.

On this account thousands of old warriors who had not marched for years, donned their sash and brass buttons, and then the escorting platoon of police moved down Smithfield street, spanning the roadway from curb to curb.

By virtue of seniority, Illinois had the right of line, but in point of numbers it did not make the appearance that had been expected.

The Buckeye state made an excellent showing, between 30 and 40 posts, from Cincinnati, Ashtabula, Lima, Dayton, Toledo, Canton and other cities being in line.

A tumultuous reception was accorded throughout the route to the comrades from New York. This division was headed by a platoon of veterans in black undress uniform, with white gloves and helmets, and who kept step with a precision that insured them a vociferous recognition.

It was 1:30 before the Pennsylvania department swung into line and closed up the rear of one of the greatest G. A. R. parades ever held in the country.

At 3 o'clock the end of the column reached the Associated Press office, the parade having been just 4 hours and 15 minutes in passing down Fifth avenue. Then the divisions broke into posts and marched to their quarters in different parts of the two cities.

It is impossible to form any accurate estimate of the number of spectators. Every available inch along the route was packed, every side street was jammed full of people for a hundred yards back, and the hourtops for blocks away were hidden by masses of enthusiastic applauders. A rough estimate is that between 500,000 and 600,000 people saw the parade.

The day passed with fewer accidents than were expected, and none was serious. Several women fainted in the crowds along the sidewalks, and a few prostrations among the veterans were reported, but such thorough preparations had been made for this class of cases by the hospital corps of the national guard that immediate attention was given and speedy relief afforded.

The police arrangements for handling the immense crowd were as nearly perfect as possible, and the streets along the route were kept absolutely clear for the use of marchers.

A neat tribute by the veterans paid the memory of the famous dead was the reverend raising of hats by each division as it approached the triumphal arch on Fifth avenue in front of the Associated Press office. The lifelike statues of Washington, Lincoln and Grant surmounting the arch, were given this recognition by almost every division passing through.

The weather continued cool and bright throughout the entire day. The nearest approach to undue excitement was at 8 o'clock in the evening, when three alarms were turned in for a fire on Union street, just at the foot of Fifth avenue. The Union hotel was ablaze, and from its location in the midst of old and closely built business blocks, a great alarm was felt. The fire was soon controlled, but the excitement among the the immense number of promenaders on the streets did not die out for some time.

Several notable campfires were held yesterday evening, at which addresses were made by Governor Pattison, Henri Waterson, Senator Manderson, General Butterfield, Governor McKinley, Governor Rich, Congressman Storey, General Alger, Church Howe of Nebraska, William A. Ketchum of Indiana, Judge Hicks of Minnesota, L. D. Woodworth of Ohio, Admiral Osborn, Joseph B. Chandle of Indiana, General Trowbridge of Michigan and others.

The friends of the several candidates for commander-in-chief are working like beavers for their friends. Indications point to the election of I. N. Walker of Indiana as commander-in-chief and to Louisville as the place of meeting for the next encampment.

Judge Long of Michigan last night formally withdrew from the race for commander.

SHE GAVE HERSELF UP.

A Woman Confesses to Killing an Old Soldier.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 12.—Yesterday Mrs. Julia A. Batten, a widow, about 50, gave herself up to Officers Corrigan and Guyer, in the West End, stating that she had killed Benjamin P. Travis, an old soldier, who had been living with her for a year past.

Mrs. Batten resides at Home View place, in the rear of Driggs' roadhouse, on Home avenue. Investigation revealed the dead body of Travis lying on the floor.

Mrs. Batten's story of the affair is as follows: Travis came home drunk late Monday night and abused her. They quarreled, and she went out of the house and picked up a small stick of wood. Travis followed her out, and struck her in the mouth, whereupon she struck him on the head with the wood, knocking him down.

He lay where he fell, and Mrs. Batten then went to the house of Mrs. Webb, colored, nearby, to remain for the rest of the night. She returned about 5 o'clock, however, with Mrs. Webb, and found Travis still lying on the ground. They carried him into the house. He was then still alive, but died an hour or so later. Mrs. Batten was locked up on the charge of murder.

SHOT BY HIS DIVORCED WIFE.

Tragedy Enacted on a Train Near Newark, New Jersey.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Clarence W. Clark, one of the four worthy committeemen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and next in rank to Chief Arthur, is lying at the point of death from a pistol wound inflicted by his divorced wife.

Clark was about to start from New York for San Francisco to look after the troubles on the Southern Pacific. His wife met him at the Grand Central station and made threats. To elude her he went to Jersey City to take a train, but the woman had followed him and got on the same train. As the train was stopping at Newark the woman entered the car, shot Clark and then jumped out and disappeared. Clark was carried out to Philadelphia and the bullet extracted from his left lung, but he is in a very precarious condition.

LIVELY TIMES LOOKED FOR.

Cattlemen Swoop Down on Three Sheep Camps and One Man Is Wounded.

PARACHUTE, Colo., Sept. 12.—Cattlemen swooped down upon three sheep camps on the Mesa, west of here, yesterday, shot and dangerously wounded a herder named Carl Brown, drove off the other herders and ran the sheep over the cliffs along Roan creek.

The cattlemen evidently knew that they would have no great opposition as nearly the whole population of the vicinity has gone to Grand Junction to take part in Poach Day celebration. The sheepmen have raised a posse of men armed to the teeth and started for the scene of the conflict, swearing that someone will have to pay for the day's work. The present trouble is merely a renewal of the troubles of a year ago in this vicinity and there will probably be a lively time before it is ended.

EXPLOSION OF GAS.

One Man Killed, Another Fatally Hurt and Three Others Injured.

ASHLAND, Pa., Sept. 12.—A terrible explosion of gas occurred yesterday afternoon in the Centralia colliery mines, operated by L. A. Riley & Company, by which George Electra was instantly killed, James Fergarty was fatally injured and John Cook was seriously burned. Two Hungarian laborers, whose names could not be learned, were also injured.

The gas was ignited by Electra's naked lamp. His body was frightfully mangled and burned. Fergarty was thrown a distance of 30 feet along the gangway and was injured internally. The damage to the mine is slight. It was believed that several miners were closed, but they had escaped through an air course.

PHILLIPS-MCCOY FEUD.

Trouble Breaks Out Again in Logan County, Kentucky.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Reports have just reached here of fresh trouble in Logan county between the Phillips-McCoy factions. On Saturday evening the parties met at Williamson, and several shots were fired on both sides. Three men were seriously injured.

On Sunday evening the McCoy's family and the Phillips faction went to church at Thacker and another riot took place. John Phillips was shot and can not recover, and two of the McCoy crowd were also injured. No arrests have yet been made. It now looks as though one side or the other will be annihilated before the trouble is at an end.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

BOISE, Ida., Sept. 12.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the west-bound train on the Oregon Short Line at Owyo bridge, 20 miles east of Nampa. A rail was loosened on the bridge, which is 45 feet high. It was discovered by the section foreman just before the train arrived, and he flagged the train. An armed man, mounted, was observed on a hill nearby making signals. This man afterward appeared again and fired twice at the foreman. Deputy United States marshals and posers are in pursuit.

Republicans in the Thirteenth District.

TOLEDO, Sept. 12.—Amos H. Kling of Marion, O., was nominated for congress by the Republicans of the Thirteenth district at Sandusky, O., yesterday afternoon.

DEBS' TRIAL RESUMED

Superintendent Dunlap of the Rock Island Testifies.

THE HISTORY OF THE STRIKE.

He Heard the Mobs Jeer at Injunctions and Saw Employees Threatened by the Rioters—Thirteen Witnesses Testified For the Government During the Day. Discussion Between Attorneys.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The trial of the American Railway union contempt cases was resumed yesterday before Judge Woods, in the United States court. The first witness was General Superintendent Charles Dunlap of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. Mr. Dunlap testified as to interruption of traffic on his road, and the delaying of mail trains.

The court ruled that the witness could testify only as to what he actually saw, and could not use information prepared in typewritten form which was received from employees under him. He heard members of mobs on different occasions jeer at the government and curse the Woods-Groscap injunction in unmeasured terms. He also was a witness to the stopping of trains, and heard employees threatened by rioters with personal violence.

"Do you think there would have been any trouble in moving trains if there had been no threats of violence?" asked Attorney Walker.

"I do not. Just as soon as we got protection we had no trouble in filing the places of strikers and in operating our trains."

Mr. Dunlap said that in 36 years' experience he had never seen a strike unaccompanied by violence.

On cross-examination Mr. Gregory tried to elicit information in regard to the methods of the General Managers' association. Counsel for the government objected on the ground of irrelevance, upon which Mr. Gregory made a long speech, in which he pointed out that he would attempt to prove the existence of a combination among the general managers to reduce wages, which would justify a combination of laborers to resist such methods.

Throughout the day the attorneys for the defense continued to object to the evidence as introduced by the government, and for some reason Judge Woods sustained them much oftener than he did during the earlier days of the trial.

In all 13 witnesses testified for the government during the day, most of the evidence adduced dealing with the scenes of violence in and about the city during the strike. Towards the close of the afternoon the counsel for the government got down to the actual work of connecting Mr. Debs and his associates with the lawlessness by introducing the telegraph messenger boys who delivered various telegrams previously put in evidence at the offices of the American Railway union. In all but three cases the messages were either signed by the doorman or Mr. Benedict, the typewriter. In three cases one of the messenger boys said he had delivered telegrams to Mr. Debs personally and he had received for them. The delivery sheet was not in evidence, however, but will be presented later in the trial.

W. T. Baker, ex-president of the world's Columbian exposition, told how he and a large number of other passengers were tied up for 11 days at Livingston, Mont., and of sending a telegram to Mr. Debs, which was indorsed by the local A. R. U. leader, one Mr. Kelly. He had never received any answer to his appeal for assistance to Mr. Debs, but he said he heard that Kelly had got orders to move the train if possible, but he did not know this of his own knowledge.

J. N. Seales, general superintendent of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, another witness, identified the telegraphic correspondence which he had with Debs regarding the raising of the boycott on his road. He had wired Mr. Debs in the first place, telling him that the Mobile and Ohio road ran no Pullman cars and requesting him to do what lay in his power to prevent the strike.

The next telegram bore the name of Debs and asked if the Mobile and Ohio road belonged to the General Managers' association. Upon Mr. Seales' assurance by wire that it did not, a telegram was sent asking Seales to call on Dwyer the local representative of the American Railway union, and make arrangements with him regarding the calling off of the strike. This, Mr. Seales testified, that he did, and read the agreement which he had with Dwyer. The telegrams were all placed in evidence.

One of the attorneys for the government said that if the telegrams could be positively traced to Debs in this case his directing hand in the strike would be positively established.

The feature of the day's proceedings was a discussion brought about by Attorney Gregory, in which he scored the General Managers' association.

"If we can get the witnesses to testify and the court will admit the evidence, I think we can show that this General Managers' association was preparing to reduce the wages of the employees on the roads which its members represented. They were seeking to do this by a combination against labor, and this was the real cause of the strike. From one end of this country to the other we have heard people denouncing this sympathetic strike. Yet Judge Cooley, in his address to the American Bar association, says that no board of arbitration—and I add that no injunction—can compel a man to work if they do not want to. Now these employees had a right to quit work. No injunction could prevent them from quitting or from advising others to quit. The government has offered certain telegrams sent to these defendants, they have proved violence, but there has been no testimony as to connection between the facts."

Judge Woods replied that he thought some of these discussions were gotten up to draw the fire of the court, but the court so far endeavored to prevent the fire from developing. He said he had a decision by Justice Harlan on the subject of strikes, which he would soon lay before them.

Mr. Erwin argued that any testimony was admissible which would show a mitigation of the offense. The judge replied that he was of the opinion that evidence in mitigation would only be allowable in criminal cases.

BOSTON'S IMMORALITY.

Wickedest City in the Country, Is the Declaration of Rev. Lansing.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Rev. Isaac J. Lansing, D. D., discussed the immorality of Boston at the meeting of the Evangelical alliance and asked all Christians to do what they could to encourage General Martin in his reform of the Boston police. Among other things Dr. Lansing said:

"We need a revival on lines of conduct and life and law rather than of sentiment and doctrine. There is a deluge of immorality sweeping over this country. It is largely due to foreign immigration. Our new arrivals are threatening all our institutions. Crime against personal property has been greatly increased. I am also inclined to believe that there has been a decay of truthfulness. Men in courts will tell what they please and no more. When it comes to the social evil, no one dares to look at the state of affairs. I have not asked the ministers of Boston what they think of its social condition, but I have asked the traveling men, who know all the largest cities in the land, and from every one of them I have received the same answer, that in no city of this country is vice so open as in Boston. Not only are the horrible establishments advertised in the press, but they are marked by signs, and under the names of 'massage operators,' or 'chiropractors,' or 'manicures' the women carry on their fearful work. You could see it openly on streets last night; you can see it almost anywhere. I am convinced that what we need is a revival that would help General Martin in his work to reform the police."

Means No More Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Secretary Carlisle in a letter addressed to Senator Caffery of Louisiana, officially decided that under the new tariff law it would be unlawful to appoint inspectors, weighers and testers of bounty sugars under the McKinley act, and further that congress having made no appropriation for the employment of such officials, the laws of the United States prohibit the employment of such persons to serve without pay.

Frightful Duel With Knives.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Sept. 12.—A frightful duel with knives was fought by two prominent farmers, Thomas Osborn and Marcus Murphy, near Polkville last evening. Murphy's legs broke into Osborn's cornfield and this caused the trouble. The two cut and slashed each other in an indescribable, frightful manner and were both found dying in pools of blood.

Stage Held Up and Robbed.

PHOENIX, A. T., Sept. 12.—Word has reached here that a stage was held up seven miles south of Congress late last night by masked highwaymen. Six passengers were in the coach. They were relieved of all their valuables, the bandits securing $500 in coin. Officers are in pursuit of the robbers.

LI HUNG CHANG FAILS

China's Viceroy Losing His Popularity.

HIS DOWNFALL PREDICTED.

The Promised Victory Over the Japanese Not Yet Accomplished and His Prospects Growing Dim—Great Confusion Reigns Throughout China—Trade Is at a Complete Standstill.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A dispatch from Shanghai states that the power of Viceroy Li Hung Chang has steadily decreased. A few influential friends are doing their best for him at Peking, but it is not likely that they will be able to avert his downfall. Every day's delay in providing the promised victory over the Japanese now adds to Li Hung Chang's danger.

The dispatch adds that the block in moving the Chinese troops into Korea continues. Everything has been thrown into confusion. The reinforcements from the more remote provinces en route to Tien-Tsin are at a standstill, and are terrorizing the cities in which they are halted. The reinforcements are mostly disciplined hordes, who are not under the control of their nominal leaders. Almost a reign of terror prevails even in Tien-Tsin. The savage soldiery are plundering and maltreating the wretched populace, and native merchants are fleeing to Tien-Tsin in order to save their lives. Trade is at a complete standstill and misery is general.

A French minister has formally protested against the action of the Chinese in boarding a French mail steamer on Saturday last.

A letter from the resident minister at Seoul states that a large military hospital has been erected on the heights, and that numbers of invalid Japanese are treated there. The building is crowded with patients. It is reported that constant conflicts are taking place between the outposts, but that few badly wounded men have been taken to Seoul. Most of the men in the hospital there are suffering from disease.

VICTORY FOR LABOR.

Coat and Garment Makers' Strike Will Soon Be Settled.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The strike of the coat and garment makers will probably be settled before the end of the week. The strikers claim a complete victory. It is said that about 80 of the contractors have signed the bond demanded by their employees and that about 3,000 have returned to work.

The Contractors' Mutual Protective association held a meeting yesterday afternoon to take action on the report of the executive committee. It was decided that hereafter 10 hours shall constitute a day's work and that no discrimination shall be made between one labor organization and another. The question of wages was left to each individual contractor. It was also agreed that each contractor shall give a bond to the organization, the purpose of the bond to be explained to each member upon filing the same.

NOTE IN A BOTTLE.

The Steamer Sunderland Probably Gone to the Bottom of the Lake.

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—A special to The Free Press from Lemington, Ont., says: A bottle picked up on the east side of Point Pelee yesterday afternoon contained the following:

Steamer Sunderland blew out cylinder head 80 miles west of Buffalo, now sinking. No hope saving one soul. Loaded with steel, pig iron. God save us. MAXZ GOLDUSLOVE.

Samuel McKnight, a United States prisoner from Georgia, was drawn into it, and all had black eyes and bloody noses before the guards could seize them. They were marched off to the cellar for further punishment.

Threw a Child Out the Window.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 12.—Peter McArdle, 29 years of age, while intoxicated at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, threw his 10-year-old niece, Mamie McArdle, out of the second-story back window to the ground. We have reliable information from the gallant old Republican county of Lewis that our party was never in better fighting trim than now.—Louisville Commercial.

"Our party." What is your party, anyhow, Mr. Commercial? You have been trying to pose as an independent for years. Please explain.

Your information as to Lewis can not be from very reliable sources. Judge Thomas and other G. O. P. leaders can tell you that the Republicans of Lewis were never so split up as they are right now.

THE BOASTED HOME MARKET.

"Republican orators will not likely spout any more about the home market," says an exchange. "We have had a thirty-year test of their manner of building up a home market. Protection was to place the manufacturer so close to the farmer that the latter would haul his produce in his wagon to the door of the factory and get the highest price imaginable. This was to be a veritable paradise when the great American system of protection should build up a home market. More than thirty years of the building up process has already gone and where are we at?"

"Before the late war no effort was being made to build up this far-famed home market by the hot-house process, and the farmer was doing considerably better than he has ever done since. He was getting considerably over $1 per bushel for his wheat, his cotton was bringing 15 to 20 cents per pound, his wool from 40 to 50 cents per pound, and other things in proportion. The Republican party closed up their career of home market building last week. What was the result, how much was the farmer getting for his products? Wheat, 50 cents, cotton, 6 cents, wool, 16 cents, and other things in proportion.

"This is the grand and glorious result of Republican legislation."

A PETRIFIED DUCHESS.

Identification of the Body of a Beautiful Woman Found in a Cave in Germany.

The petrified woman recently found in one of the caves which were used as burial places when Strasburg was plague stricken in the year 1094 is now believed to be the Duchess Adelheid, the aunt of Frederick Barbarossa. The petrification, which has the appearance of being a beautiful marble statue, is only perfect from the waist up. It was found in a rude wooden coffin, which had been deposited in the cave, among thousands of human skulls and other remains. When the workmen opened the coffin, they found that it had been filled with quicklime or some other preparation which strongly resembled common mortar.

Curious to know who had been thus carefully put away among the heaps of dead, they broke into the plaster incase ment and found the wonderful petrified head and bust above alluded to. Contrary to the expectations of the sight-seers, the features did not crumble away on exposure to the air, but remained clear cut, lifelike and unaltered. About the head were two braids of golden hair, and across the breast both hands had been carefully folded. The face is said to be one of great beauty, every feature exhibiting intelligence and culture. This wonderful petrification is now in the studio of Hasley Daner.

KENTUCKY CROPS.

What the State Commissioner of Agriculture Says of the Outlook. Monthly Report.

State Commissioner of Agriculture McDowell in his monthly report just issued says: "Since my report of July 1st there have been fine rains in the larger portions of the State, some counties having been more favored than others. There is a much better feeling among the farmers. Both the corn and the tobacco crops have been very much benefited. The August report of the statistician of the United States Department of Agriculture shows a decline in corn of nearly 26 points from July 1st to August 1st. In some localities the crop was injured beyond recovery, while in others timely rains have improved it very much, and the indications now are that the crop will be better than was anticipated, not only here but in all the States. I will venture to say that there was never a better crop made with as small a quantity of rain. The farmer has done his whole duty; the crop was never better worked, and those that were fortunate enough to get an early stand of corn will make a fair yield. As many farmers have already commenced to feed their hogs on wheat, much of the corn will be saved in this way. The U. S. Agricultural Department has recognized the importance of feeding wheat to live stock, and has issued a bulletin on the subject. The bulletin advocates the feeding of screenings and low grade wheat to animals, and placing none but first-class wheat on the market. It shows that where wheat and corn are the same price per bushel, it is preferable to sell corn and feed wheat. There are a good many farmers substituting barley for wheat this season, because of the extreme low price of the latter, regarding it a more profitable crop because of the greater yield per acre, and being a better grain for horses than wheat. There is also a disposition to sow more rye than usual. I have had several inquiries for large 'white rye' for seed from parties who want to sow it. I would like to hear from anyone who has a nice clean article for sale. This certainly would be a good fall to sow rye for winter pasture, as there is a short crop of corn and hay. For pasture, rye should be sown early and much thicker than for grain crop. A very good plan would be to sow rye on your stubble fields early this fall, and run your disc harrow over it; will be all that is necessary; it will afford good winter pasture and will be a good fertilizer to turn under in the spring.

"I have been in fifteen or twenty counties since the rains commenced, and in most of these counties there will be a fair crop of corn, at least three-fourths of a crop. Some correspondents report 'never had better crops of corn or tobacco.'

"Nearly all correspondents write there is a wonderful improvement in tobacco since the rains commenced. Before the rains a good deal of the tobacco was burning up and had to be cut, but if we do not have an early frost, tobacco will continue to improve. There has been considerable damage in some counties from hail. Reports as to condition are very wide apart. One correspondent from Grayson County put the condition as low as 25 per cent. A summary of the whole is 77.5.

"There seems to be a better demand for hogs than any other kind of live stock. I asked my correspondents as to the average quantity of hogs to be fed this fall. The per cent. is placed at 81.

"The average quantity of two-year-old cattle to be fed this fall is placed at 77.4 per cent.

"A very small number of counties report any clover seed this fall. The crop is nearly an entire failure. Winter killing, spring frosts and drought are the principal causes of the shortage. Acreage compared with last year, 70 per cent. Condition, 65.6.

"The Government Report of the condition of potatoes August 1st, is placed at 74 per cent., a decline of 18.3 since July 1st. The report for this State is 77 per cent. acreage.

"As to the fruit crop in this State, there is not enough to inquire about. The Government reports a further decline in apples, the percentage standing 44 for August against 47 for July. The condition of peaches has fallen much lower, and now stands at the extremely low figure of 22.3."

Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. STRUCK A SNAG,

And Went to the Bottom—The Steamer Silver Wave Goes Down Near Vanceburg.

Word was received here Tuesday at noon of the sinking of the Vanceburg and Maysville packet Silver Wave.

The first report was that the accident occurred just below Manchester, but it was afterwards learned that she sank at a point between Rome and Vanceburg, near the latter place.

She struck a snag that ripped a hole in her hull and she soon went to the bottom. Her stern settled in eleven feet of water.

The extent of the damage has not been learned. The Wave is the property of Captain G. W. Edgington, and has been in the Vanceburg and Maysville trade several years. Captain Edgington traded the steamer Bellevue for the Wave last spring.

One of the Sisters Took Her Departure on the 19th of Last June. Facts of the Case.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 11.—It has just come to light that Sister Josephine, whose worldly name was Josephine Buchanan, has made her escape from the convent here.

Sister Josephine is the daughter of well-to-do parents, who reside in New York City. She has been planning her escape for the past two years, with the assistance of her brother and a certain young lady who was attending school at the convent, and who lives in Georgetown, O., she succeeded well in making her escape in broad daylight, and boarding the 2 o'clock train on the C. and O. road for her home. The Georgetown lady and Sister Josephine wore the same size dresses. The Georgetown lady had a dress made for herself which she furnished to the Sister. Sister Josephine was the teacher of the parochial school, which is located on the rear end of the convent lot. She threw off her nun's garb at noon while the scholars were at dinner, and dressing herself hurriedly in her prepared garments, and adorning herself with false curls that were made from the cuttings of her own hair, escaped through the school house. Her brother was near by with a carriage, and together they succeeded in catching the train for home. Sister Josephine has been an inmate of the convent for nine years, and formerly attended school at the convent.

In reference to the above the following statement is given out:

"The 'Post' correspondent who sent from Maysville the special above has things strangely confused. As there is neither motive nor reason for concealment, we state the facts in the case. The person whom the writer designates 'Sister Josephine' was not Sister Josephine at all, but Sister Berchmans, and her family name instead of being Buchanan was Lane. That Miss Lane's people are well-to-do, is hardly possible, as she was received into the community at Maysville, penniless, being unable to bring a dowry.

"According to her own statement in a letter which she left, containing her alleged reasons for departure, her unnecessary 'escape' had not been contemplated for two years, but only for several months, probably dating from February, at which time she was removed from the corps of teachers in the academy, being considered, on account of lightness of mind, unfit to guide young children. Miss Lane, be it said to the credit of the well-known and excellent academy of Maysville, was never a pupil of said institution. We would further remark that it was wholly unnecessary for Miss Lane to take so much trouble to make her 'escape,' as the convent doors will be readily opened to any Sister who desires to re-enter the world. Moreover, the person in question need not have stolen out of the back door of the parochial school, in which she was not a teacher, as she held the keys of the front door of the convent, being portress. Jennie Theis, of Georgetown, is the girl who assisted Miss Lane in making her would-be romantic 'escape.'"

Miss Lane, who was known as Sister Berchman not Sister Josephine, was formerly a member of the community at Carthage, O. She came to Maysville about eight years ago. Her name in the world is Cornelia Lane. Her father is dead. The present address of her mother is not known. She has one sister and one brother. The former married a relative of the same name and is living somewhere in Brooklyn. The brother lives at some point in New Jersey.

Miss Lane took her departure on the 19th of last June, the day of the annual commencement of the academy. She departed by way of the parochial school on Second street, and took the L. and N. train, going from here to Covington and thence it is presumed to her home.

She was a convert to the Catholic faith and became a nun against the wishes of her relatives. The latter fact probably led her to return to the world.

A number of Portsmouth's leading citizens occupied seats on the stage, and the eloquent Southerner was accorded a warm reception.

THE UNION VETS.

They Cheer General Gordon as He Speaks of the Stars and Stripes

PITTSBURG, September 11.—Well on to last midnight that which to the members of the Union Veteran Legion attending the encampment and the Pittsburg members of the organization was perhaps the most remarkable scene since the close of the rebellion took place when General John B. Gordon, one of the leading commanders of the Confederate army, appeared before a vast number of Federal soldiers and raised his voice for the obliteration of sectionalism and a united America. To say that the old Union soldiers were responsive to Senator Gordon's plea, gives no adequate idea of the reciprocal feeling manifested by the thunderous cheers and hearty hand grasps with which the ex-Confederate General was received.

General Gordon was the first member of the Confederate army to ever enter the hall. The great crowd gave three very hearty cheers. General A. L. Pearson in happy remarks introduced the rebel General, whom many present had "met" at the surrender at Appomattox.

General Gordon said: "I and all right-thinking men will admire men who fought."

Turning to the Union flags which profusely covered the speaker's stand, he delivered a very eloquent apostrophe, pledging his devotion and that of the ex-Confederates of the South to that banner, and all that it symbolizes. He addressed the soldiers as comrades and countrymen, and every time the General in his calm, deliberate tones used these endearing terms the audience was visibly affected.

At the end of the eloquent address three tremendous cheers were given. Corporal Tanner responded in an address of no less fervid eloquence, pledging the respect and admiration of all Union soldiers, who fought and suffered, for the loyal, patriotic men and soldiers represented by General Gordon.

DEATH OF DON PIO PICO.

He Was the Last Mexican Governor of California.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—Don Pio Pico, the last Mexican governor of California, died here yesterday. He was 94 years of age. Until within a few weeks he was in good health, though feeble. Pio Pico was born at San Gabriel in 1801, and on the death of his father, in 1819, moved to San Diego, where he opened a store. He prospered there, became somewhat prominent in a political way, and secured the title to one of the large Mexican grants, which he subsequently sold to the Americans.

His political prominence frequently placed him on the wrong side and he several times suffered imprisonment. But on the whole his tendency was upwards. He was president of the junta in 1845 at the time of Michael Toren's downfall, and became temporary governor Feb. 23. His office was confirmed in Mexico, and on April 18, 1846, he took the oath as constitutional governor, holding the office until Mexico lost possession of the country.

On the approach of the American forces he fled to Mexico, but returned to California in 1848, settling at Santa Margarita. In 1866 he moved to Los Angeles, where he remained until the time of his death. He was an extensive land owner. Among his possessions being the Rancho Santa Margarita, embracing thousands of acres.

MINNESOTA CALAMITY.

Fifty Thousand Dollars Cash and $30,000 Worth of Supplies Contributed.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 12.—The first report of the state commission for the relief of the sufferers from the forest fires has been issued. It indicates that St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and the smaller towns of the state have contributed about $50,000 in money and about $30,000 in clothing, food and lumber. Besides several thousand dollars have been contributed from outside the state, principally from New York and Chicago. The commission says it finds the work of searching for and burying the dead now practically completed. While contributions of material are acceptable, the commission reminds the people of the state that money is the most portable and useful contribution possible.

Locomotive Firemen.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 12.—The greater part of yesterday's session of the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was taken up with the hearing of reports of Grand Master Sargent. At the morning session addresses of encouragement were delivered by T. V. Powderly, Samuel Gompers, E. E. Clark and Secretary Edwin A. Mosely of the interstate commerce commission. The women's auxiliary reported 33 lodges with a membership of 534. There are over $3,000 in the treasury clear of all expenses, which the report says have been very large during the past two years.

Was in Two Wars.

INDIANOLA, Miss., Sept. 12.—William Gantt, the colored body servant of General Albert Sidney Johnson in the Mexican and civil wars, died here Monday night. The funeral was held under the auspices of the Confederate Veterans association, and was the largest gathering ever witnessed in Indianola. Business was suspended during the day as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased. "Uncle Billy" Gantt, as he was familiarly known, was 75 years old.

Maine Election Returns.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 12.—It is claimed by Republicans that Governor Cleaves' plurality will reach 38,000, but Mr. Manley's estimate of 37,000 is generally regarded as correct. The greatest surprise is in the complexion of the house, which will have but nine Democrats. Reed's plurality in the First district is 8,329; Dingley's in the Second 8,900; Milliken's in the Third 8,500 and Boutelle's in the Fourth 8,600.

Chased by a Madman.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 12.—Early yesterday morning Mrs. George Niles and daughter, while passing through the woods near Chesterton, were chased for nearly half a mile by an unknown man. A posse was organized and he was soon found. He was nude and his body was a mass of bruises. He is demented and the officers have so far been unable to find any clue as to where he came from.

Knocked Out by the Nozzle.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Sept. 12.—Robert Powers, a member of the city fire department, was seriously injured yesterday. He was assisting another fireman in holding a nozzle while a test was being made of a steamer. The pressure became too great and his companion released his hold on the hose. TEXT BOOKS.

The Recent Change Applies Only to the City Schools—A Misapprehension Corrected.

Editor Bulletin: Misapprehension seems to prevail with regard to the recent change in text books used in the public schools. These changes apply to the city schools only. No change has been, nor can be made, of text books used in the county schools before 1897.

The enclosed circular issued in 1892 explains the subject fully. No teacher has a right to make any change in this list; neither has the County Superintendent until the time indicated expires.

Frequent change of text books is undesirable to pupils and entails unnecessary expense upon parents. Any teacher who deviates from this list should be reported to the County Superintendent.

NOT OUT OF THE MODE.

Silk Is Very Popular, but All Wool Fabrics Are Still Worn.

Although silk is so much worn this season, fine wool fabrics are by no means out of the mode. All the old standard weaves are shown in the new colors, while crepons, both all wool and silk and wool mixed, are seen with new variations. They may be self trimmed or combined with satin and moire. The latter is worn in all colors, although black seems to be the favorite, as it always is in moire. Pretty woolen gowns are made with a yoke or vest, belt and gigot sleeves of bengaline or moire, the skirt being trimmed with bias silk bands to match, or the sleeves may be of the woolen goods, with a balloon puff of silk reaching from shoulder to elbow. Fine gimp or galloon trimming is used as a finish.

The popularity of silk seems to have given a fresh impetus to the ribbon trade, and ribbons are shown in an unusually wide range of color, width and style. Satin faced moire and double faced satin or peau de soie come in beautifully soft, rich qualities, and satin backed velvet ribbon may be found in all the fashionable shades, but grosgrain ribbon seems to have gone out in company with grosgrain silk—both are invisible. Ribbon is much used this year not only for millinery, but for trimming costumes in bows, bands and ruffles, and is a particularly pretty garniture for light summer goods, such as muslins, nainsooks and chailles. It is not confined to the trimming of thin gowns, however, but is used on heavier toilets and wraps by itself or combined with black, white or cream lace.

An illustration is given of a summer walking costume composed of thin lettuce green crepon. The skirt is plain on the right side, but is draped over the left hip, the drapery being held in place by a large silver buckle. The back of the skirt has no trimming, but the front and sides are ornamented with two oblique bands of wide white moire ribbon. The plain round bodice fastens invisibly under the left arm, the back being in one piece, plaited in at the waist. A double band of ribbon is carried side across the front to the left shoulder, where it is fastened under a bow with long ends, and a ribbon belt confines the waist. The gown has gigot sleeves.

For the Farmer.

Bourbon News: "Now is the time to sow blue grass seed. The first rain will bring it up and if the fall is seasonable a good sod will be made before winter sets in. Be sure to sow before the equinoctial rains, which are to be expected about the 20th of this month."

A CLOTHIER who does not advertise usually carries a large stock of pants which will not bag at the knees for quite a long time.—Printer's Ink.

MR. GEORGE STEWART, who has been in failing health for some time, at the home of his mother in the Fifth Ward, is in a critical condition.

The Sultan Interested in America.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—The sultan has again given practical evidence of his interest in America. His majesty was deeply moved by the tragic details which reached here of the forest fires in Minnesota and Wisconsin, and he has given 300 Turkish pounds for the benefit of the sufferers.

Forest Fires Abroad.

ALGIERS, Sept. 12.—Forest fires of immense proportions are raging around Bona. The smoke is so dense that the sky is obscured over an area of 60 miles. The heat from the burning forests is excessive and can be felt as far as Tunis, between 90 and 100 miles east of Bona.

Bail Fixed at $10,000.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Sydney Alfred Bennett, an American lawyer, now connected with a sewing machine company, who on July 3 fired a shot at his mistress, Edith Maria Andrews, missing her, and who afterward fired a shot at himself without any serious results, was committed for trial yesterday at the Old Bailey, bail being fixed at $10,000.

Attempted to Cross the Track.

WHITE HALL, N. Y., Sept. 12.—While attempting to cross the track ahead of the northbound express train at Putnam, N. Y., yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Orson Higgins of Benson, Vt., were instantly killed and a little girl, Mary Manley, was fatally injured.
